HURRICANE HELENE RELIEF EFFORT

This Weekend's Second Collection: Catholic Charities USA

On behalf of His Eminence, Cardinal Dolan, we are asking for the prayers and support of the people of the Archdiocese for our brothers and sisters in Florida and throughout the southeastern part of the United States.

As you have seen in the news, Hurricane Helene made landfall on September 26th and has created devastation in that part of our country. The rain and flooding have been unrelenting. At least 215 have already died as some communities struggle to get basic supplies. It is the third deadliest storm of the 21st century, after Katrina in 2005 and Maria in 2017.

As we often do in these situations, we instinctively want to be involved in the long-term recovery. The Cardinal knows the generosity of our people and their deep care for those in distress.

This weekend's second collection will go towards Catholic Charities USA, the official domestic disaster relief agency of the Catholic Church in the United States. Envelopes can be found in the vestibule. Please make checks out to Sacred Heart Church and write "Helene" in the memo. We will continue to collect donations until October 27th. Thank you for your support.

The Network of Care weekend will now be on October 27th.

GO AND INVITE EVERYONE to the banquet

Mt 22:9

The Holy Father's Message for World Mission Day 2024

October 20th World Mission Day

The Vatican released Pope Francis's message for World Mission Sunday 2024. In the text, the Pope reflects on the Gospel parable of the Wedding Banquet, where the king tells his servants "Go therefore to the thoroughfares, and invite to the marriage feast as many as you find".

Pope Francis tells us Mission is a tireless outreach to invite others to the Lord's banquet: His Holiness reminds us that mission implies a continuous outreach to all people, not only by going out, but also by inviting each one in a personal way to meet the Lord.

We must go to the ends of the earth, with perseverance and without forgetting that we must incarnate a tireless commitment to the mission of evangelization.

The universal mission of Christ's disciples in the fully synodal and missionary Church: In a divided world, the Gospel remains a unifying force, calling people to meet and rejoice in harmony in the midst of diversity. Mission includes a special concern for the marginalized, echoing the parable's invitation to "all, good and bad."

It is crucial to remember that we are in a period calling for a renewal of strength and to be a fully synodal and missionary Church, affirming that synodality and mission are interconnected.

In the parable, the banquet represents a symbol of the definitive salvation in the Kingdom of God: The invitation to the banquet is linked to the Eucharistic table, where believers share the Body and Blood of Christ, anticipating the final banquet.

The symbolism of the Eucharist, an essential sacrament, paired with the urgency of the evangelization for all peoples in this parable is a strong reminder of the importance of our mission.

Towards the end of his message, the Pope recommends to all dioceses worldwide the service of the Pontifical Mission Societies as the primary means "by which Catholics are instilled with a truly universal and missionary outlook from childhood, and [as] a means of effectively collecting funds for all missions, each according to its needs."

As in all his messages, the Holy Father concludes by invoking the intercession of Mary, who played a fundamental role at the wedding feast in Cana. Mary serves as a guiding force in the Church's evangelizing mission, and her maternal intercession is sought out by Christ's disciples in the present.

The October 20th second collection will be for World Mission Day. For more information and to read Pope Francis' full message visit <https://onefamilyinmission.org/wms/>

Requirements for Receiving Holy Communion

When we receive the Eucharist we are receiving Jesus himself. It is more than bread and wine, it is truly the body, blood, soul and divinity of our Lord. Because we are receiving God into our bodies, our bodies must be prepared to be fit vessels. Saint Paul says, "Whoever, therefore, eats the bread or drinks the cup of the Lord in an unworthy manner will be guilty of profaning the body and blood of the Lord." (1 Cor 11:27) The Catholic Church gives the following guidelines for preparing ourselves to receive Holy Communion:

You must be in a state of grace

This means that we must be free from mortal sin. A mortal sin is any sin whose matter is grave and which has been committed willfully and with knowledge of its seriousness. Grave matter includes, but is not limited to, murder, receiving or participating in an abortion, homosexual acts, having sexual intercourse outside of marriage or in an invalid marriage, and deliberately engaging in impure thoughts. For further information on what constitutes a mortal sin, see Article 8 of the Catechism of the Catholic Church. If you are aware of any mortal sins you've committed, you must go to confession before receiving Communion.

You must observe the Eucharistic fast

Canon law states, "One who is to receive the most Holy Eucharist is to abstain from any food or drink, with the exception only of water and medicine, for at least the period of one hour before Holy Communion (CIC 919 §1). Elderly people, those who are ill, and their caretakers are excused from the Eucharistic fast (CIC 919 §3)." Included in the fast is also consideration for bodily demeanor. The Catechism of the Catholic Church states, "Bodily demeanor (gestures, clothing) ought to convey the respect, solemnity, and joy of this moment when Christ becomes our guest (CCC 1387)."

In the same way we would not invite an honored guest into our homes if it were a mess, we should prepare our bodies for the Lord. He is the holiest of holies and should thus be shown the appropriate reverence and respect through both our bodies and souls.

Guidelines for Bringing Communion to the Homebound

As a reminder, if you are bringing the Body of Christ to the homebound, we ask that you arrive at mass early to speak to the priest and let him know that you will be bringing the Eucharist to someone in need. Please place your pyx on the altar before mass begins. If you arrive after the start of mass, please stand on the priest's communion line to receive the Eucharist from him. Only the priest can dispense the Eucharist to extraordinary ministers visiting the homebound. Other Eucharistic Ministers do not have the authority to do so.

Please also be mindful that you are carrying Jesus himself. While you are in possession of a pyx containing the Eucharist, you are a tabernacle. Please go directly to the recipient and refrain from going anywhere else while you carry the Body of Christ.

Sacred Drama Concert: Sweet Chains

The Academy of Sacred Drama will present Sweet Chains, their production of Pistocchi's 1692 oratorio 'Il Martirio di San Adriano (The Martyrdom of St. Adrian)' at St. James the Less Church (10 Church Ln, Scarsdale, NY 10583) on Sunday, October 20th at 3pm.

Moved to convert because of a miraculous sign, the Roman guard Adrian faces imperial persecution and death for embracing the Christian faith. His wife desires to share in his suffering and strengthens his resolve. The Academy's semi-staged production, accompanied by Baroque-style instruments, stars the young Brazilian countertenor Victor Bento. A Western Hemisphere premiere.
