REFLECTION

by Leonard N. Peterson

One of the appeals of “The Chosen” online show is its use of creativity and imagination where the actual gospels leave tantalizing gaps in their recount of Our Lord Jesus’ earthly life. The 4 gospels can’t be “blamed” for omitting desired details because they were never written as biographies of Jesus. So we can delight in what the screenplay presents as what might have happened two thousand plus years ago when Jesus walked.

All such appeals are absent in St. Matthew’s account of Jesus’ description of the Last Judgment. It is stark and scary. Real and reasonable about what that ultimate judgment will be like. The Church presents the description Our Lord gives at this final weekend of the Liturgical Year to remind us of three different truths: the world as we know it will one day end; that we ourselves will one day end our lives here below; and that Christ alone as King and Judge will determine how our lives will continue.

I said that the whole scene is scary. But I did not mean that in the sense of “Halloween scary.” Just about a month ago our near pagan culture was all about graveyards and skeletons and all manner of monsters.

How that deviation from the original celebration of the eve of All Saints’ Day, when we recalled and honored “all the hallowed ones” that is, the saints, is a long story.

The “fear of the Lord” is quite different. In simple terms it means that we are so respectful and loving of God that we fear to offend Him by how we live. I think that is a healthy fear. It keeps us bound to our belief in His goodness and love for us just as we are, faults included. No need to be afraid of His Judgment if we have really tried to do our best here on earth. And when we have failed, as we all inevitably do, then our sorrow and resolve to do better stand us all in good stead before Christ’s heavenly throne.

Vance Havner, a renowned Protestant preacher, once said this: “There are a lot of questions the Bible doesn’t answer about the Hereafter. But I think one answer is illustrated by the story of a boy sitting down to a bowl of spinach when there’s a chocolate cake at the end of the table. He’s going to have a rough time eating that spinach when his eyes are on the cake. And if the Lord had explained everything to us about what’s ours to come, I think we’d have a rough time with our spinach down here.”

New Mass Setting Changes Starting in Advent

Starting in Advent, we will begin using the Mass of the Resurrection setting by Randall DeBruyn for the following sung responses. The music for these can be found on the following pages of the Breaking Bread missals found in the pews.

- #868: Holy
- #871: Save Us, Savior
- #872: Amen
- #873: Lamb of God

The index for this setting can be found on the last page of Breaking Bread at the top left corner.

We will also be using A New Mass for Congregations: Gloria by Carroll T. Andrews. To listen, please visit <https://tinyurl.com/yvc9hhy2>

Christ the King

Lord, Jesus Christ, Our Sovereign King
The beginning and end of all things,
You have made your Church to be a people that bears witness to the goodness and beauty of your kingdom.
By your Holy Spirit, you have united us as one body,
called to live as one family of God.
Fill our hearts with your grace,
that we would be close to you
by being close to the vulnerable and marginalized.
Give us the patience to share one another’s burdens,
And give us the courage to always be friends of the truth.
May we remain with you always.
Amen.

Saint Andrew November 30

As with the other apostles, we have very little knowledge on the life of Saint Andrew. He is thought to have been born in the village of Bethsaida on the Sea of Galilee between 5 and 10 AD, and lived in Capernaum at the time of Jesus' ministry. Along with his brother, Simon Peter, he was a fisherman. He was a disciple of Saint John the Baptist before he and his brother were called by Jesus to become "fishers of men."

After Jesus' death and Resurrection, Andrew is thought to have gone to Greece and Turkey to preach the Good News to the Gentiles. In Patras he was martyred by being bound to an X-shaped cross, or a "saltire". He deemed himself unworthy to be crucified on the same type of cross as Jesus. To this day, this cross is commonly referred to as "St. Andrew's Cross". His remains are kept in the church bearing his name in Patras. He is the patron saint of fishermen, singers, Scotland, Romania, Russia, Ukraine and Patras.
