THE SACRAMENTS OF

First Holy Communion & Confirmation

Congratulations to the First Communicants and Confirmands who received the sacraments of initiation last week! Let us pray together for continued grace and faithfulness throughout their lives.

O Jesus, who hast loved us with such exceeding great love as to give us the ineffable gift of the Holy Eucharist, inflame us with a burning zeal to promote Thy glory by preparing worthily the little children who are to approach Thy holy table for the first time. Protect, O Sacred Heart of Jesus, these young souls from the assaults of evil, strengthen their faith, increase their love and endow them with all the virtues that will make them worthy to receive Thee.

Holy Spirit, strengthen our students with your gifts of Wisdom, Understanding, Counsel, Fortitude, Knowledge, Piety, and Fear of the Lord, and serve as a disciple of Christ.

Grant that they may grow into the fullness of the stature of Christ. Fill them with the joy of your presence. Increase in them the fruit of your Spirit. Help them to experience and trust your dwelling within so that they can count on your guidance today and every day. Show us the way to help one another become better disciples of Jesus Christ, sharing your love with our world and with each person we meet. Come, Holy Spirit! Come!

Week of May 12, 2024 The Seventh Sunday of Easter

by Leonard N. Peterson

Sweet sonnets and lovely songs have been written in which one partner tells his/her beloved other that “you’re always on my mind.” That’s how love affects thought patterns, no matter one’s age. It is a fit subject for wonder and praise. An intimate thing. A beautiful human thing.

Today we are allowed to “overhear” Our Lord, through the medium of John’s gospel, express in prayer not only His love for His Father, but also even for Judas. That troubled man had just left the Upper Room to begin his ultimate act of betrayal. Our Lord’s prayer is especially remarkable, because in only a matter of hours, His captors would arrive to nab Him to lead Him away. They would rewrite the story of love at its best. But it would be told via terrible torture and a despicable death. What strength of mind and heart our Savior had to pray like He did. Even then He was always concerned for “the other.”

That “other” in this context even included Judas. What a sad and confused man, this one of the chosen Twelve turned out to be. Forever after this night, his name would become synonymous with all kinds of treachery. To accuse another of being a Judas is the final blow in a slow or sudden breakdown of trust.

While we have no inherent right to play God by placing Judas in hell, we dare not. True, his crime was of the devil. The Victim was God in the flesh. But we, in our small and petty ways have done measurably evil with our repeated habits of sin against the same Victim.

We must humbly admit that our sins nailed Jesus to the wood of the cross just as surely as the ignorant soldiers of Rome. He hangs there to make amends for our sins. We know that their weight almost crushed Our Lord. He “became sin” in St. Paul’s powerful description.

Yet, by God’s grace, we can share in the triumph of the Third Day. In a very real way, we might even claim to be “always on Jesus’ mind.” The question follows like day follows night: “Is Jesus always on our minds?” Do we take advantage of the big and small ways that life offers to prove it?

During the season of Super Bowl I, the great quarterback Bart Starr had a little incentive scheme going with his oldest son. For every perfect paper Bart Junior brought home from school, Starr gave him ten cents. After a particularly rough game against St. Louis, in which Starr felt he had performed poorly, he returned home weary and battered, late at night after a long plane ride. But he couldn’t help feeling better when he reached his bedroom. There attached to his pillow was a note: “Dear Dad, I thought you played a great game. Love, Bart.” Taped to the note were two dimes.

God love you and keep Him in mind.

Saint Isidore

May 15

Isidore was born in Madrid in 1070. When he was a young boy, he began to work on the farm of a wealthy landowner, simple but sacred work that lasted for the rest of his life.

He was known to be a caring and devout Christian. He rose early every morning to attend Mass before working in the fields. His fellow workers often reported that he would show up late because he spent so much time in prayer. His prayer, however, did not stop at the grounds of the local church. He continued to pray as he plowed the fields. It’s even said angels would appear to assist him in his tasks.

Isidore married Maria de la Cabeza, an equally faithful woman who also became a canonized saint. They had one son, who sadly died as a child. However, the couple continued their loving labor. They showed concern for the proper treatment of animals and were especially devoted to the poor. Legends exist about Isidore miraculously supplying the needy with food.

He passed away in 1130 and was declared a saint in 1622, being named the patron saint of Madrid, farmers, and rural communities. Along with Saints Ignatius of Loyola, Francis Xavier, Teresa of Avila, and Philip Neri, they are known in Spain as the “Five Saints.”

Many implications can be found in a simple laborer achieving sainthood: Physical labor has dignity; sainthood does not stem from status; contemplation does not depend on learning; the simple life is conducive to holiness and happiness. Perhaps the truth which emerges is this: If you have your spiritual self in order, your earthly commitments will fall into order also. “Seek first the kingdom [of God] and his righteousness,” said the carpenter from Nazareth, “and all these things will be given you besides” (Matthew 6:33).

Prayers from Our Lady of Fatima

In 1916, the Angel of Peace appeared to three children in Fatima, Portugal, to prepare them for their meeting with the Blessed Mother. She appeared to them a year later, once a month for six months. In this time she impressed upon them the importance of praying the rosary and making reparations for sinners. Both the Angel and Our Lady gave them the following prayers.

The Pardon Prayer

My God, I believe, I adore, I hope and I love Thee. I beg pardon for all those that do not believe, do not adore, do not hope, and do not love Thee.

The Angel's Prayer

Oh most Holy Trinity, Father, Son and Holy Spirit, I adore you profoundly. I offer Thee the most precious Body, Blood, Soul and Divinity of Jesus Christ present in all the Tabernacles of the world, in reparation for the outrageous, sacrilegious, and indifferences by which He is offended.

The Eucharistic Prayer

Most Holy Trinity, I adore Thee! My God, my God, I love thee in the Most Blessed Sacrament.

The Sacrifice Prayer

To be recited when offering up suffering to God

O Jesus, it is for the love of Thee in reparation for the offenses committed against the Immaculate Heart of Mary and for the conversion of poor sinners (that I do this).

The Fatima Prayer

To be recited at the end of each decade of the rosary

O My Jesus, forgive us our sins, save us from the fires of hell, lead all souls to Heaven, especially those in most need of Thy mercy.
